railroad company. The suit is for $20,000 damages.

H. H. HORD DENTIST

OFFICE—REBERTSON BUILDING—SPRINGFIELD, KY.

few months of the year 1901, when he lived in Indianapolis, he had made Washington county his home where his life was spent as an active and useful citizen. In early manhood he married Miss Mary Thompson and to them were born eleven children, eight of whom are living and are grown to men and women of usefulness and credit to the teachings of upright and God-loving parents. In his intercourse with his fellow man the life and character of Mr. Brown stands without one blot. His name was a synonym for honesty and fair dealings. Charitable and kind of heart he was ever ready to lend a helping hand to any in distress or in need of sympathy. Modest and unassuming in his manner and life he was respected and revered by all who knew him for his genuine worth. Mr. Brown's wife and companion of years of a well spent life preceded him to the grave only about three years and the children who survive are as follows: Mrs. James Ewing of Bardetown, Mrs. Nellie McCarty of Bloomfield, Mr. James Brown of Cleveland, Ohio, Mr.
Boy Brown of Indianapolis, Ind.
Mr. Jewett and Misses Mary, Lucy and Viola Brown of this place.

The funeral services were held at the Presbyterian church in Springfield, Ky. Strickland officiating, and the burial was in the family lot at Pleasant Grove cemetery.

LAID TO REST.

The Last Sad Rites Over the Remains of Ernest C. Mansfield

The remains of Ernest C.
Mansfield, whose sad death by drowning at Cambridge was chronicled last week, reached this place on last Friday and were put away in their final resting place on Cemetery Hill. The funeral services, which were held in the Presbyterian church were attended by a large crowd of friends of the young man who had been a general favorite here. The casket and altar were laden with beautiful floral designs, tributes from friends in Springfield, at his college and elsewhere. Rev. Dr.
Miles Saunders formerly of this place preached the funeral sermon and just one week from the time his young life was blotted out in the watery grave of Charles river his earthly remains were laid to rest beneath the sod of his native county.

An announcement which came as a surprise to his family and many Springfield friends was that which came from Cambridge to the effect that Ernest Mansfield was married. The marriage took place at East Kingston, N. H., and the young lady was Miss Ada Keady daughter of Mr. Morris E. Kanaly of Cambridge. The young lady's parents were apprised of the marriage shortly after the event and young Mansfield had expressed his intention of informing his parents when he came home on a visit during the Christmas holidays. The young wife is said to be heart broken over the tragic end of the young husband.

side and have rented the Chester house. Mr. Moss is manager for the Continental Tobacco Co. at this place.

EXAMINATION FREE

It may seem strange to some that I make no charge for examination. I believe this is the best method for conducting a successful optical business. I believe it will bring me more customers. I want the people of Springfield and vicinity to make my store their headquarters. I want them to feel perfectly free to consult with me every time they have the least suspicion of defective eyesight. I want to examine the eyes of every person in Washington county once a year. In that way I can keep in touch with you and can advise you when to wear glasses and when not to. When you need them I will make a reasonable charge for furnishing them. Until that time I will charge you nothing.

A WORD TO THE WISE IS SUFFICIENT

A sleek looking man driving a fine team of mules will call on you with a Cooking Range and use all the talk and strategy possible to sell you a Range. If you want a Range all we ask is that you come to our store and if we cannot show you a better Range for less money then you buy from them. We have the Range that knocks them out and it is larger and better and last of all we can sell it cheaper put it up in your home and guarantee it in every particular. Come and see what we have and also see our line of Heaters and Cook Stoves. Beware, Beware of the Range Peddler.
